

Isaiah Greene, DPT

Isaiah Greene is a graduate of Mayo Clinic School of Health Sciences in Rochester, Minnesota, where he received his Doctorate of Physical Therapy (DPT).

As a Doctor of Physical Therapy, Isaiah has received specific training in orthopedic assessment and treatment including therapeutic exercise, functional performance, neuromuscular re-education, and manual therapy. He has additional training in the McKenzie method and Functional Movement Systems. As a student, Isaiah was able to participate in several clinical rotations at the Mayo Clinic including sports medicine, acute care, neurologic and orthopedic based therapies.

Clinically, Isaiah is interested in treating a variety of orthopedic, geriatric, and sports related conditions. Isaiah has also treated people with conditions related to chronic pain with an emphasis on cognitive behavioral therapy and neuro pain science education. In addition to time spent in outpatient clinics and home health care and nursing home settings including time spent in memory-care units. Isaiah's complex experience/training has given him the opportunity to treat patients across a continuum of diagnoses and stages of life.

Isaiah is a certified level 1 Functional Dry Needling (SFDN) and has received training for concussion management from the CDC as part of his university training.

In his free time, Isaiah enjoys exercise, hunting, ice-fishing, camping, golfing, pickleball and just about anything related to competition.
